

The Gospel Truth

Content Advisory

This story takes place on a plantation in Virginia during the institution of slavery. Some of the characters are enslaved. There is reference to physical abuse including whippings, as well as a reference to the plantation owner fathering a child by one of the enslaved characters. There are depictions of gun violence and death.